

Renters Insurance

It is strongly recommended that you purchase renter's insurance to cover any loss of your personal property and your possible liability in case of accidents.

The owner's insurance on the property only covers the dwelling; it DOES NOT cover your personal belongings. You should obtain renter's insurance that becomes effective on the date that you take possession of the property and maintain the policy as long as you occupy the premises.

Renter's Insurance protects your personal belongings like your clothes, furniture and electronics. It also protects you with liability coverage and it does it all for less than you might think.

Feel confident that all you've worked for is not at risk. Renter's insurance policy protects you and your family against bodily injury and property damage claims and litigation up to the limits that you select.

So, why do you need Renter's Insurance?

- To protect yourself from liability.
- To protect your possessions and to replace them in the event of a loss.
- To protect yourself financially.
- To provide you with temporary living coverage if your residence is damaged.
- To insure you will have someone on your side when the unexpected happens.

The owner's insurance DOES NOT cover your personal property, food spoilage or costs associated with loss of use of the property.

You should always verify what your renter's insurance policy covers.
